Welcome to the Digital Concert Hall

The Berliner Philharmoniker and their principal conductor Sir Simon Rattle are about to enter the Digital Concert Hall for the third season. This one-of-a-kind video platform enables music lovers everywhere to enjoy virtually all of the orchestra's concerts via the Internet – captured by high-definition cameras and in superb audio quality. The Digital Concert Hall is supported exclusively by Deutsche Bank, which has sponsored the Berliner Philharmoniker since 1989 and makes possible the orchestra's education programme "Zukunft@BPhil".

Once again, during the 2010/11 season over 30 concerts will be transmitted live from the Berlin Philharmonie and then made available in our video archive. There you can already find more than 60 outstanding recordings from the last two years. Needless to say, the new season also has many musical high-points in store for you, including a complete Mahler cycle with Sir Simon Rattle.

Every effort has been and is being made to make it even more convenient and attractive for you to use the Digital Concert Hall. In the future, thanks to a partnership with the Sony Electronics Group, the Digital Concert Hall will also be accessible over that company's Internet-enabled televisions. But you will also find many new features in the Digital Concert Hall itself. Come see for yourself – there's a lot to discover!

Technical Specifications

The Digital Concert Hall meets the highest technological demands: Flash H.264 encoding ensures an excellent high-definition image, and audio is provided in AAC with a data transfer rate of up to 320 kbit/s. The concerts can be enjoyed on your computer, TV or stereo. Depending on your Internet connection, there are three qualities to choose from:

- 700 kbit/s (for 2000 DSL). This transfer rate is suitable for basic DSL connections.
- 1.5 Mbit/s (for 6000 DSL). This is perfect for average-speed DSL connections; it produces quality similar to that of a DVD.
- 2.5 Mbit/s (6000 DSL and above). With such a high-speed DSL connection you can now enjoy the best-possible picture quality on a par with HDTV.

All Digital Concert Hall content is available only as video stream and is not available for download. To use the Digital Concert Hall you need the following set-up: Mac or PC with Intel® Core™ or AMD® Athlon™ processor with >2 GHz and 1 GB RAM; Adobe Flash Player 9; Internet Explorer 7, Firefox 3 or Safari 3; broadband Internet connection (e.g. DSL) of >1 Mbit/s (recommended: 6 Mbit/s).
